

1. Fraser walks into the room where the people are sitting, waiting to hear his presentation - Feeling neutral

2. He introduces himself and tells them the name of his new game show 'Banknote Bingo' - Still feeling neutral, he's not the first one today

3. Fraser takes out a banknote out of his wallet and puts it in front of the gentlemen - Getting curious why he does that

4. Fraser then takes out his iPad and hands it over to one of the gentlemen - Curious what they have to do

5. He asks him watch the banknote through the iPad - Curious what will happen next

6. The tv producer grabs the iPad and aims it at the banknote - Happy he is part of the presentation

7. Suddenly the banknote starts changing - Getting interested

8. The number '20' on the banknote starts increasing and the animation starts telling the person about Banknote Bingo - Interested and intrigued

9. The animation is finished - Wondering how the game will work

10. Fraser starts talking - Interested and paying attention

11. He explains them the mechanics of the game supported by a few slides - Understanding the game completely and appreciate the game show

12. He thanks them for listening and goes on his way - Being thankful that Fraser came and presented them such a concept in such an unique way
